

The Radiant Girl Affirmation

When I look in the mirror what do I see?
I see a radiant girl
looking back at me.

I am beautiful;
I am brilliant
and not afraid to stand up for what I believe.

I walk with my head high
My shoulders back
and with every stride
I know that I am becoming more and more of the girl I've been predestined to be.

You see...

I was created by a Mastermind
Who, even before time,
knew me and formed me Therefore I will not undermine His creativity and try to emulate
anyone else besides me.

Because I am unique and embrace being me!

My life isn't easy (they never said it would be) but I'm learning to find positivity and not give up or settle for mediocrity

I will not try to blend in with the in crowd
because I know who I am

Many confuse my confidence
With arrogance
But who I am today is just evidence that I've been given a chance to live life to the fullest.

And I will...

Yes, one day at a time
I will let my light shine
I will succeed and help those in need

I will make an indelible mark
I will do my part & make a difference in this world
because I am a radiant girl!
